Botanical Name: Hoya carnosa

Wax plant, shooting star. Belongs to the family Asclepiadaceae - the milkweed family.

Like most people I acquired my Hoya from a friend. This long lived plant is often handed down like a family heirloom, and most people relate the story of an aunt or grandmother bestowing a cutting to them. These marvellous plants can live 40 years or longer, and I have had mine now a mere ten or so; my daughter having the main plant and I a cutting.

By themselves the thick elongated leaves are rather insignificant. The vines are perfectly suited to a trellis or hanging basket. Don't expect your Hoya to flower until it is about four years old –the older the plant the more magnificent the blooms!

It is the waxy, porcelain-like flowers that give Hoya its other names like 'wax plant' and 'shooting star'. These clusters of flowers capture your senses with their almost unreal appearance and intense scent that one person described as almost 'chocolaty'.

In warmer countries the plant is often moved outdoors at night when the flowers release their intoxicating perfume.

It is important to know that when pruning your plant do not cut off the stems that produced flowers, because they will re-flower on the same stem!

Bright indirect sunlight is preferable, and it likes a light fertilizing once a month. A slightly acidic peat based soil is ideal, and good drainage is important. I have often forgotten about my Hoya and allowed it to dry out completely with no harm done.

The low maintenance Hoya has certainly been one of my favourite houseplants, and it will remain an heirloom in my family.

Canadian Pignettes

The history of Thanksgiving in Canada can be traced back to 1578, when navigator Martin Frobisher set out from England in search of a route to the Orient by sailing north. Although he never found the passage, he did establish what later became Newfoundland and Labrador. His formal celebration giving thanks for safe passage is considered the first Canadian Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving is the time of year when families customarily gather together in their homes to enjoy the harvest. A common image is a cornucopia filled with seasonal vegetables, representing the "Horn of Plenty", a symbol of bounty in ancient Greece. Turkeys, pumpkins, ears of corn and large displays of food are also used to symbolize Thanksgiving Day.

On January 31, 1957, parliament officially announced Thanksgiving Day as the second Monday in October. It was declared "a day of general Thanksgiving to Almighty God for the bountiful harvest with which Canada has been blessed".

FYI

The hockey term hat trick probably evolved from the game of cricket. In 1858 when a British cricket player took three wickets with consecutive balls, it was deemed an incredible trick. As a reward, his club gave the bowler a new hat.

A natural hat trick is when a player scores three goals in a game, in a row, with no other player on either team scoring in between.

A New Home for Our Aging Parents

Corry-Ann Neilands

As we age, most of us think about the beauty of retirement and what we will do with all the spare time we will have when it arrives. We plan financially in hopes of traveling to destinations in faraway places that we can't get to now, due to our work and family responsibilities. We look forward to taking up new hobbies that have always peaked our interest but never took the time to develop and we solidify our retirement plan with selling the house, downsizing into a condo to accommodate our new found freedom or we determine to take the plunge and build that dream home we always envisioned.

Yes, this is where our thoughts go but one thing we generally never seriously consider, is the difficult and emotional decision of how to meet the needs of our elderly parents, whom have long since passed that "recreational" retirement lifestyle. It quickly becomes an emotional mix of concern, fear and sadness that the very people who took care of us at our most vulnerable times, are now becoming reliant on others with daily tasks they so easily did before. Their increasing health concerns and safety flood our minds with questions as we enter into the unknown world of medical terminology and medications we frantically "Google" to understand, all the while, trying to convince ourselves that Mom or Dad is "doing fine"... "they are managing".

More and more people are faced with the decision of moving their parents out of their homes and many are choosing senior living residences for all of the services they provide. For instance, their loved one(s) are ensured the level of care they require along with meal options they don't have to cook, opportunities for socializing and reduced household chores, while living in a safe environment. With this attractive option for our parent(s) and so many locations to select from, thus begins the educational process of finding the right location with the correct level of services. Where does one even begin or know what to ask? Here are a few things to keep in mind:

- Be honest with yourself on the care your parent now needs assistance with. Pay attention and makes notes on the changes you have seen along with dates of any deterioration. If you don't live in the same area, then have a trusted family friend visit frequently.
- Keep communication flowing with any doctors or pharmacists and other healthcare specialists, to stay on top of things and keep everyone abreast of your parents' condition. It is imperative to ask questions. Having some sense of control over the care of your parent(s) is key and there may be times when you have to be assertive and request meetings to ensure the level of care required.
- Further to that, try your best to put any sibling rivalries on hold when discussing your parents' care. It is in the best interests of your parent(s) that his or her health and well-being is the most important aspect.
- When sourcing senior living locations, make sure you understand the level of care your parent needs before calling around. Alberta Health Services provides clear descriptions on the various levels of supportive living (albertahealthservices.ca) and the Housing Directory for Seniors, published by the Kerby Centre, is a great source that lists the private and government subsidized locations.

Having peace of mind that your parent(s) is cared for by compassionate professionals, that they live in a safe and comfortable environment while eating healthy, engaging with others and that they are living with dignity and respect, is the goal. The process to finding the right location and moving your parent(s) in, will be a stressful one that can feel overwhelming. Rest assured, moving your parent(s) into a senior living location that you feel confident in, is a decision that will benefit not only your loved one's health and overall well-being but also your own.

Halloween Safety

Alberta Health Services EMS would like to remind parents and trick-or-treaters of some basic Halloween safety tips, as October 31st approaches. Halloween can be an exciting time for children, but with the distraction of treats and costumes, safety rules can easily be forgotten. Take some time to review these simple tips and reminders to help ensure Halloween is a safe night for all.

Trick-or-Treaters

- Remember: all regular pedestrian rules still apply. Be sure to cross the road at marked cross walks, or well lit corners only. It is safest to work your way up one side of the street, and then cross once to the other side.
- Stay away from houses that are not well lit. Do not accept rides from strangers, or enter any home you feel is unsafe.
- Let your parents know where you are going to be at all times and advise them if you will be late returning.

Parents

- Be certain that young trick-or-treaters are accompanied by an adult. Older children should stay in groups.
- Advise children not to eat anything until they return home. Dispose of any items that appear to have been tampered with, or that are not properly wrapped.
- Pre-determine boundaries to trick-or-treat within, and establish a firm time to return home.

Costumes

- Consider sending your children with a flashlight for additional safety and increased visibility.
- When purchasing, or making costumes, look for materials and accessories that are labeled flame-resistant.
- Ensure your child is wearing adequate foot wear that takes into consideration weather conditions and walking
- Choose bright colored costumes that are highly visible. Adding reflective tape to costumes further increases visibility.

Chocolate and peanut butter lovers – these cookies are for you!

CHOCOLATE CRINKLES

- 1 ¾ cup cups granulated sugar
- 1 cup unsweetened cocoa powder
- 1 cup unsweetened applesauce
- ½ cup canola oil
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 2 ¼ cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup icing sugar

Using an electric mixer, combine sugar, cocoa powder, applesauce, oil and vanilla until well blended. In a separate bowl, whisk together the flour, baking powder and salt.

Add flour mixture to the cocoa mixture in three parts, beating well after each addition until a soft, moist batter is achieved.

Cover the bowl with plastic wrap and refrigerate for at least 2 hours or overnight.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F and line 2 baking sheets with parchment paper.

Sift icing sugar into a shallow bowl. Scoop spoonfuls of dough and roll between your hands to form 1 ½ inch balls. Roll in icing sugar until well coated and place on baking sheets approximately two inches apart.

Bake for 10 minutes, but double check in 8. They should be puffed up and just set so they'll have a soft, brownie-like texture.

Cool on a rack and store in an airtight container for up to two days.

PEANUT BUTTER CUP COOKIES

- ½ cup margarine or butter
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup packed light brown sugar
- ½ cup creamy peanut butter
- 1 large egg
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- 1 ¼ cups all purpose flour
- ¾ teaspoon baking soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt

24 miniature peanut butter cups

Beat butter, sugars and peanut butter together until smooth and creamy. Mix in the egg and vanilla, and then add the flour, soda, and salt.

Spoon 1-inch mounds into mini muffin tins, and bake for 8-10 minutes at 350 degrees F.

While the cookie mixture is baking, remove the wrappers from 24 mini peanut butter cups.

Remove muffin tins from oven and immediately press a peanut butter cup into the centre of the dough until only the top shows.

Cool on a wire rack until easy to handle, and carefully remove from the muffin tins.

Enjoy!

All Dogs should go to School!

by Jennifer L. Scott, D.V.M.

Veterinarians often advise clients about behavioral issues with their pets. Statistically, behavior problems are the number one reason dogs are given up in the first year of their life. Hopefully your pet will be with you for many years, so an obedience class or two is a small investment towards a great partnership.

I am a veterinarian with a strong interest in behavior; I have taught hundreds of dogs in group and private obedience classes. I still attend obedience classes with every new dog I acquire. I do not want a dog that obeys in my backyard, when I am alone, or with family. A well-trained pet should obey when the doorbell rings, when the front door is open, and when walking down the street. In other words, you want a pet trained for normal life. For this you need to go to a strange environment with lots of other young hell hounds and say do this!

Calgary is loaded with great dog trainers in all quadrants but unfortunately anyone can market themselves as a dog trainer with no licensing. The Calgary Humane Society has a great series of classes with great trainers. Different breeds do need different approaches to teaching. Sporting breeds, like retrievers, and working breeds, like Border Collies, learn very differently from terriers and hounds. Toy dogs want to rule the world. Does the trainer understand your breed? Ask for references. What are the trainer's credentials? Have they competed in obedience trials? What is the focus of the class? Some trainers teach general obedience, others concentrate on competitive obedience, and a few trainers in the city are able to help owners with dogs with specific problems such as aggression. Private classes are occasionally warranted. Don't be afraid to walk away from a trainer if your instincts say you will not be able to work together, the best training experiences are FUN!

The younger a puppy is started in obedience the more long-term effects it will have. If all puppies in a class are vaccinated, the risk of disease is outweighed by the benefits of early training. Make sure the trainer checks all puppies' vaccination records, no exceptions. Puppy classes are a foundation for learning with commands introduced as fun play as your puppy is socializing with other dogs in strange different environments.

Novice obedience classes start at six months of age. Obedience classes can lead to tracking, fly ball, and even dance classes. Learning is limited by your imagination. There are many ways trainers lead you through these stages and many tools that can be used. Good trainers use all of the tools as required by pet and owner. Various collars, halters, and harnesses are available and motivators range from liver, to a thrown ball, to a click associated with a treat, to a simple vocal "good dog". Trainers teach owners the timing that is critical and how to use their tools. Actually trainers train the owners, who then train the dogs.

Owners come to me with problems ranging from separation anxiety, general destructiveness, barking at the front door, dominance issues, housetraining problems, and aggression. In all cases, I will recommend obedience classes as part of the solution. Even fearful behaviors such as thunder phobias benefit from confidence built in obedience classes. A confident and well-adjusted dog is a partner you will enjoy and want with you in all your daily activities. Good judges and high scores to you if you decide to compete!

WHY?

When a person is upset, why do we say someone's "got his goat"?

When someone "gets your goat", it usually means you've lost your temper or have become upset enough to be distracted. It's a term that came from a horse trainer's practice of putting a goat in a stall with a skitish racehorse to keep him calm before a big race. An opponent or gambler might arrange for the goat to be removed by a stable hand, which would upset the horse and its owner, and thus reduce their chances of winning.
