Now that is some serious
Calgary soccer pride.

AND WE'RE PROUD TO BE IN THE GAME.

It's the start of another outdoor soccer season. And this year, it's fully public — the way it should be.

That's because Calgary council has asked your city workers to take over management and maintenance of the the Calgary Soccer Centre from private organizations.

And here's our commitment to you:

- A clean, efficient facility — where you feel comfortable taking your family.
- Saving you money — city council saw a public solution as the most cost effective; there will be no more spectator fees.
- A community asset — open and welcoming to clubs, players and families from across the city.

We think this is a pretty good game plan moving forward: Let's keep city recreation facilities public and working for all Calgary families.

Making your city
work for you

Fostering Friendship with

The REDFERN FAMILY

Footloose Photography

This month I had the pleasure of meeting the Redfern family of Auburn Bay; Steve and Jill and their adorable children Avery (3) and Jett (8 months). They were so NICE that I felt like I should put them in my contacts when I left so we could get together and go for drinks some time! Not only are they some of the sweetest people I have met, but they have just the best love story ever! Enjoy!

Steve (AKA 'Dad') was born in Brandon, Manitoba and lived in the small town of Minnedosa, Manitoba until he was 5 years old. His family then relocated to Brandon where they lived until he was 15. In 1997, his family moved to Calgary, which has been home base for him ever since with some stops in other cities along the way.

Jill was born in Swan River, Manitoba and lived there until she was 5. Just like Steve, she grew up in Brandon, Manitoba. When she was 19, she moved to Saskatoon, Saskatchewan to continue school at the U of S, where she also worked at the Keg Steakhouse and Bar as well as Molson Coors Canada while completing her commerce degree.

Steve attained his Business Administration diploma from Mount Royal College in 2002, before moving onto the University of Lethbridge where he completed his Bachelor of Management in 2005. Shortly after graduating, Steve took a sales job in Calgary with the Pepsi Bottling Group, where he worked until October of 2008. He really enjoyed his time at Pepsi, eventually working on a project that took him across Canada, and as a delivery supervisor in Lethbridge and Saskatoon, which is where he reconnected with Jill.

Taking a step back in time, we discover that Jill and Steve were actually childhood friends in Brandon, Manitoba. More than that, their parents and aunts/uncles even knew each other when they were growing up in Brandon. Jill is also close friends with a couple of Steve's cousins. Steve and Jill were pretty good friends in their early teenage years, hanging out in the same group, and even watched the odd movie together before Steve moved away in 1997. In the days before Facebook, somehow they always managed to stay in touch over the next 10 years. When Steve was transferred to Saskatoon with Pepsi in 2007, he knew there was a good chance he could find Jill working at the Keg Steakhouse, so that's where he went on one of his first nights in town!

The next thing you know Steve was sitting in the Keg, and the rest is history as they say. Their first date was memorable for a lot of reasons! They were at a pretty nice restaurant in Saskatoon, very small/cozy with probably only about 12 tables. Jill got up at one point and knocked over the table sending their drinks and silverware crashing to the ground. Steve found the whole situation pretty funny, Jill possibly not so much!

Despite the first date disaster, they were married in 2011, joined by about 50 family and friends in the Mayan Riviera. Jill and Steve said it "was an amazing two weeks that we will always remember as a chance to celebrate with so many people close to both of us".

In December 2012, they welcomed their daughter Avery, followed by their son Jett in August of 2015. They feel that "Life has never been busier, but never better as well!"

Jill is really enjoying the time she is spending with her family and friends on maternity leave, and is also looking forward to rejoining her team in September when she returns to work. Jill recently celebrated her 10 year anniversary with Molson, and is now working as a Field Sales Manager.

In 2008, Steve rejoined the family business where he worked as a teenager, becoming the franchisee of the A&W restaurant on 130 Ave SE. His family currently runs the 130th Avenue, Chinook Mall, and Westhills A&W restaurants together with the help of their amazing teams. He says that "We truly couldn't be happier with our group in the stores, and are very thankful for all that they do".

The Redferns have been in Auburn Bay since December 2008, and recently moved into their second home here October 2013. Steve's dad lived in Auburn bay prior to them moving here, and he really enjoyed it. They like the fact that it is a lake community and close to work as well.

Jill and Steve say that they can "Honestly never picture ourselves leaving the South". They "have met so many great people here, both at our old house and again in our new place. The amenities keep getting better, and Auburn House and the beach is a great place to take our kids". They also say that they "couldn't ask for better neighbours" and that "There are so many young families in Auburn Bay so there is always something happening on the block. Last summer our street had its First Annual Block Party, which was a huge success. The plan is to make it an annual event. There was a bouncy house for the kids, games, barbecue, and potluck with great food. It was a beautiful day as well so there were a ton of people who came out. We all had a great time and met many excellent people we now call friends. We're definitely looking forward to Avery and Jett growing up here!"

Steve is a sports fanatic. Steve and his friends have been season ticket holders with the Flames for the past couple years. He really enjoyed a trip to Toronto in September of last year with a buddy to watch the Jays play. When time permits, he also enjoys golfing, and socializing with friends and family. In the summer, Steve spends his Thursday nights at their 130th Ave location putting on Cruisin' (Car Show and Shine Events) which raise money for the MS Society and different local causes.

Jill has a motor that never stops, and is extremely high energy. She has also recently started selling Rodan + Fields, a premium skincare line newly introduced to Canada. Her friends are extremely important to her, and she enjoys entertaining and spending time with them whenever not chasing around their two active kids.

While their kids are still too young for School, Avery's very excited to be starting at a wonderful pre-school in Auburn Bay this fall. Jill and Steve are also very excited to see the recent development of, and announcements for schools in Auburn Bay.

Avery has been busy while Jill is on maternity leave, enjoying lessons in skating at Auburn House, and weekly gymnastics and swimming classes. She is also enrolled for her second season of soccer this summer, and REALLY likes her fun music class across the street from our house with many other local kids. Jett will also be starting baby swimming lessons soon.

The family tries to get away somewhere warm at least once a year, with their favourite destination being Hawaii. They have travelled there with both of their immediate families and also friends in the past. Jill and Steve both really enjoy Hawaii's relaxed atmosphere and beautiful scenery while finding it a great place for families. They're also looking forward to A&W's upcoming national convention in Nashville Tennessee.

While they don't have any pets, apparently, that's soon to change! They have been 'fish sitting' for the past couple weeks for friends of theirs down the street, and they haven't had to get a body double for it yet. They promised Avery when this fish goes back home, she can pick out a fish of her own. She's pretty excited!

What to Look For from a Financial Advisor

Kevin O'Hagan, PFP, FMA, CIWM

There's a lot to know about investing, so it's a good idea to get some professional help. But with so many financial advisors out there, how can you choose one that's right for you?

You may have to interview several prospective financial advisors before deciding on one. When you talk to them, see if you can get a sense of how they might work with you. Specifically, try to answer the following questions:

Does this financial advisor ...

... Understand you? Perhaps above all else, you want a financial advisor who will take the time to get to know you and your family, your goals and what's important to you.

... Clearly explain investing? Once you enter the investment world, you will likely be curious about it. Why is diversification important? What's a market correction? How do interest rate movements affect different investments? You will want to work with someone who will make the effort to educate you on investment topics and answer all your questions.

... Know your investment style? Obviously, you'll want someone who will recommend only those investments that are in your best interest and that can help you make progress toward your goals. Therefore, the person you choose needs to understand your investment personality – that is, whether you are an aggressive, moderate or conservative investor.

... Have a certain investment philosophy? You may have your own investment style and preferences – and so do many financial advisors. In fact, some financial advisors have an overriding investment philosophy that governs many of their recommendations. You need to find this out before you start working with someone.

... Communicate frequently? The most knowledgeable financial advisor in the world won't be of much help to you if he or she is not a good communicator. You need someone who will regularly let you know if you're on track or make suggestions if you're not – even if you aren't scheduled to meet for a while. And, speaking of conferring with your financial advisor, you'll want someone who will meet with you when it's convenient for you, whether it's in person or over the phone.

... Avoid making big promises? You want a financial advisor with the expertise and experience necessary to help you decide what is right for you. And you'll want someone committed to your success. But there's a big difference between someone who promises to do the best possible job for you and someone who promises big results. Be wary of financial advisors who claim they can consistently achieve high returns for you – there are very few guarantees in the investment world.

... Explain how he or she will be compensated? Financial advisors get paid in various ways, often in some combination of fees and commissions. Ask all potential financial advisors how they get compensated; any reputable professional will be upfront about his or her charges.

By finding the answers to these key questions, you should be able to find a financial advisor who is well-suited to work with you. So take the time you need to gather enough information to feel confident in your choice. After all, you're enlisting the help of someone who can have a big impact on your financial future.

Do you want to play better golf in 2016?

Routine and structure (with a dabble of spontaneity!) is important in our lives. But did you know that having a strong routine is also important in the game of golf? For the best players in the world and for the rest of us, having strong routines are important when you are practicing as well as when you are playing and is necessary to perform at your best, regardless of your ability. Having a strong "pre-shot routine" and doing it all the time, the same way all the time develops consistency ... through repetition. It also benefits you by mentally placing no more importance on any 1 shot, whether it be a practice shot or a shot during a game. By making all golf shots equal mentally, you tend not to succumb to pressure situations like hitting it over the lake, etc. You should perform your pre-shot routine always, whether you are hitting your driver, 7 iron, chipping or putting. It is ok if your putting routine isn't exactly the same as your full swing routine. In fact, I suggest you have a full swing routine, a chipping/pitching routine and a putting routine. These three different areas of the game should have specific routines but are still similar in nature. It is also ok if your routine is not exactly the same as someone else's as you will notice the next time you watch some professional golf on TV. Your game will improve because developing and performing your personal pre-shot routines will ensure that you are always:

1. Assessing your lie, assessing the wind conditions and direction, assessing the risk (bunkers, water, trees, etc.), assessing the yardage, etc.

2. Choosing the best club selection based upon these assessments.
3. Taking one or two practice swings with the target in mind and having positive imagery.
4. Starting from behind the ball prior to setting up.
5. Aiming the clubface first, then positioning your feet and the rest of your body.
6. Staring at the target and only "glancing" at the ball so your mind is always focused more on the target.
7. Having no more than one or two swing thoughts just prior to initiating the swing such as "full turn back and finish in balance"
8. Perform the shot, assess both the swing/stroke (in particular your balance and finish position) and your result.
9. Finally, and most importantly, having a good routine will ensure you are focused on your routine, your target and only one (two at most) swing thoughts. You want no mechanics in your mind when attempting to hit a shot. Mechanics are developed during specific and focused practice sessions and through drills. You want to play the game more with your instincts and by feel while keeping your mechanics on "auto pilot".

Check out these two links to reinforce these ideas and you will soon see better results out there on the links!

IN & AROUND SCHOOLS

Special activities in May for École St. Cecilia School students

In May, all École St. Cecilia School students will participate in special activities and focus on the value of "caring".

The Marian Celebration will take place early in the month. The Marian Celebration, or May Crowning, is an event that recognizes Mary the Blessed Virgin as queen of heaven and earth and the importance of our own mothers as Mother's Day approaches. We welcome Fr. Paul for our Pentecost Celebration later in May.

Students will also participate in the NED Show that promotes a school culture of kindness, resiliency and excellence. The key takeaways from this event are for students to Never give up, Encourage others and Do your best.

On the field trip front, Kindergarten students will visit Safety City to learn about the rules of the road, especially important as bike season approaches, and our Grade 1 students are off to the Leighton Art Centre, a non-profit art gallery and museum.

École St. Cecilia School is a French Immersion Catholic Elementary School for children from Kindergarten to Grade 6. The school serves most communities south of Glenmore Trail and east of McLeod Trail.

Spring Cleaning Made Simple

As you are doing your spring cleaning, be sure to find the right place for all your unwanted stuff from around the house, yard and garage.

By disposing of your materials the right way, you'll keep unnecessary items out of the landfill and give a second life to materials that can be reused, recycled or composted.

Keep your spring cleaning simple with help from these City programs and services:

Spring Yard Waste landfill drop-off

Until May 29, take your yard waste to any City of Calgary landfill for free composting.

Electronics recycling depots

There are several locations around the city to take your old electronics for recycling.

Household hazardous waste drop-off

Safely dispose of old paints and stains, pressurized tanks, cleaning products and more. Drop-offs are located at City of Calgary landfills and designated fire halls.

Community cleanups

Over 100 community cleanups will take place from May to September. Check with your community association to find out when and what items are accepted.

Visit calgary.ca/springcleaning for more details, locations and hours on the above programs.

How safe is your backyard fire pit?

Backyard fire pits are great places to gather and share good times in Calgary's summer months, but these great times can quickly become tragic if you aren't safe.

The City of Calgary has bylaw standards to help minimize some of the dangers of your backyard fire pit, or outdoor fireplace, wood burning oven or chimneys. The Calgary Fire Department also has a number of tips to help prevent anyone from getting hurt.

Safety tips and bylaw regulations

- Backyard fire pits should be built into the ground, on brick or stone, or in a fire-resistant container.
- Portable fire pits may be used on a deck as long as they sit on brick or stone, and not directly on your wooden deck.
- Fire pits must be at least two metres away from your property line, house, garage, or fence.
- Fire pits must not be under any trees, branches, plants or other materials that can catch fire.
- Always have a way to put out the fire close to your fire pit. Easy options are your watering hose or a bucket of water.
- All fires in your fire pit must be kept to a reasonable size; under 1 metre high and wide. This helps ensure the fire's embers, sparks or smoke do not harm anyone or cause a nuisance to neighbouring properties.
- All fires in your fire pit must be continually supervised.
- Fires may only be burned in fire pits from 10 a.m. to 1 a.m., unless prohibited in a fire ban.

Do not burn:

- Painted, treated or lumber containing glue or resin
- Wet, or green/fresh cut wood
- Yard waste (cut grass or leaves)
- Garbage
- Rubber
- Plastic
- Furniture

Always check www.calgary.ca/firebans to ensure no fire bans are in effect, which may caution against or forbid using fire pits. Remember, you can be fined from $500 to $5,000 for not following Calgary's fire pit bylaws (5M2004) or the instructions of fire bans. Learn more about Calgary fire pit safety and Bylaws by visiting calgary.ca and searching the term 'fire pits'.

The Feline Mystique

I first put this article together nine years ago. In the spirit of laughter relieving all our worries, I want to share it with our readers again. Many of these quotes come from an article I came across by the humorist William J. Thomas, a collection of quotations about the cat. I have to share some of these brilliant insights into the creature known as the cat, as "cat" is a far too trivial word for the emotions and characteristics this animal evokes in my mind. For example "The phrase 'domesticated cat' is an oxymoron" (George Will). Or "A god among creatures. Yet also a stray like me" (Tony Ross).

Some quotes reflect on a cat's attitude towards us. "To a cat, human beings are an inferior, servile race, always to be kept in their places, with occasional rewards if they perform well. To love a cat is uphill work, and therefore, very rewarding" (Haskel Frankel). "Cats always know whether people like or dislike them. They do not always care enough to do anything about it" (Winifred Carriere). "Cat: a pygmy lion who loves mice, hates dogs, and patronizes human beings" (Oliver Herford).

Other quotes revel in the cat's beauty and femininity. "Every cat is really the most beautiful woman in the room" (E.V. Lucas). Carol Lawrence says "They're the most graceful, sinuous, sexy, truly sensuous creatures in the world". My absolute favorite reflection by Robert Heinlein "Women and cats will do as the please, and men and dogs should relax and get used to the idea".

Cat, a word synonymous with independence. "A cat is there when you call her - if she doesn't have something better to do" (Bill Adler). "Cats know how to obtain food without labour, shelter without confinement, and love without penalties" (W.L. George).

We all know cats are smart. Hippolyte Taine said "I have studied many philosophers and many cats. The wisdom of cats is infinitely superior". Carl Van Vechten noted "The cat seldom interferes with other people's rights. His intelligence keeps him from doing many of the fool things that complicate life". I agree with them and H.G. Frommer's observation "Quirky are cats, independent and very, very smart. And clever about being smart. The smart cat doesn't let on that he is".

I would like to leave you with three final observations on our feline friends. All completely different viewpoints, but all very, very true. Elizabeth Peters declared "Cats refuse to take the blame for anything - including their own sins". Mark Twain wrote "If man could be crossed with a cat, it would improve man but deteriorate the cat". And finally, "The little furry buggers are just deep, deep wells you throw all your emotions into (Bruce Schimmel)".

If you have a topic you would like me to cover in your community newsletter please forward it to the publisher to pass on to me. For the record, if you asked this veterinarian if I prefer cats or dogs, I am unable to answer, but I have never seen a healthy feline canine relationship in which the cat comes out second.

Jennifer L. Scott B.Sc., D.V.M.

Four Tooth Brushing Myths

Stephanie McIntyre

You know you're supposed to brush your teeth, but how and how often? Make sure you don't fall into these common tooth-brushing myths.

Myth 1: Brushing Bleeding Gums is Bad

Sometimes when you're brushing or flossing your teeth, you may notice blood in your saliva when you spit. Does this mean you should stop brushing to give them time to heal? Not necessarily. Gum bleeding is a sign that you may be experiencing gingivitis or other gum disease. This is caused by plaque build-up, which is the result of insufficient brushing and flossing. So when you see bleeding, that means you need to brush more, not less. If the bleeding persists, you may need to see your dentist and/or get a professional cleaning. If your gums are sensitive, use a soft toothbrush on an angle and don't brush too vigorously. Make sure to brush your gums and tongue as well as your teeth.

Myth 2: The dentist won't notice if I only brush before my dental appointment

Too often we forget to do our proper daily hygiene until just a few days before our dental appointment, when suddenly out come the brushes and floss. Maybe if you brush enough in the time leading up to the appointment, your dentist won't notice that you just started? Unfortunately, your dentist will notice, since there will still be a build-up of plaque or tartar. So, keep up that two minutes twice-daily habit and impress your dentist next visit!

Myth 3: More brushing is always better

Ok so we just said that you should brush regularly, even if your gums are bleeding...but over-brushing can be a problem too. Toothpaste is abrasive, and if you brush too much it could wear down enamel. Don't eat too much sugary food that stays stuck in your teeth, drink plenty of water, and stick with twice a day!

Myth 4: You should brush right after eating

While it's true you should brush after meals, brushing too soon post-meal can hurt more than it helps. Particularly after eating acidic foods like oranges, your tooth enamel is often soft. Wait half an hour so that it has time to harden up again before brushing.

Healthy Posture Improves Brain Function

Dr. Alma Nenshi, Family Chiropractor

Nobel Prize recipient Dr. Roger Sperry said that the spine is the motor that drives the brain. According to his research, "90% of the stimulation and nutrition to the brain is generated by the movement of the spine." He goes on to state that only 10% of our brain's energy goes to thinking, metabolism, immunity and healing because 90% goes into processing and maintaining the body's relationship with gravity, ie. posture.

How is the spine the motor of the brain?

The spine houses a delicate system of nerves bundled together forming the spinal cord, that relay information to and from the brain and body. This highway of communication must transmit electrical signals both fast and accurately in order to allow each person the ability to control all the functions of the body while adapting along the way for external and internal stresses. Imagine listening to a beautiful symphony. Now imagine what would happen if each person was to play their instrument however they like. There would be disharmony without a conductor. This is what happens when there is a functional disconnect of the brain and nerves with the organs and systems they supply. There is dysfunction or disease of the body.

The implications of Dr. Sperry's work are far reaching. It supports that if you want to increase your energy, heal your body, improve your intelligence, fix your symptom, whatever it is that you want to control, it is within your personal reach. You can stimulate 90% of your brain by movement in your spine! Become more physically active, improve your posture and get regular spinal check ups to make sure the joints in your spine that feed and stimulate your brain are working at their best.

The facet joints in the neck (joints that connect the bones in the spine) contain the largest concentration of receptor cells that fire signals to the brain. But with stress from sedentary lifestyles, long hours at a computer, forward head posture, spinal degeneration, poor diet, unhealthy emotions, traumas and arthritis and whatever else you want to throw into this mix, is it a wonder why so many worry about how their brain and bodies will function and if they will age gracefully. It's like driving on Deerfoot Trail wanting to go the speed limit but being held back in traffic. You know your health potential, you just aren't able to clear the traffic jams because of interference in the spine.

Even the slightest adjustment in your posture can impact how much stimulation is sent to the brain. Remember 90% of the function of the brain is focused on maintaining healthy posture. So if you have poor posture, how well is your brain functioning? Chiropractic care focuses on maintaining mobility in the spine, thereby enhancing brain stimulation and growth. The results are better posture, healthy functions of the body and healthy adaptation to stress be it physical, emotional, nutritional, electromagnetic, toxins or allergies and sensitivities.

You have the power within you to re-establish brain balance and neutralize stress with deep meditation, rhythmic breathing, proper exercise like walking, being in nature, belly laughter, deep delta sleep and of course, proper chiropractic care.

Mom in the Fast Lane

Elisabeth Fayt

How often must something happen, before it occurs to you?

A few years ago, I was out running errands with my son who was four at the time. I realized I was running late for a meeting and there was no way I would make it at the pace we were going, so I decided to play a little game with him. I said, "Hey, let's have a race and see who can run the fastest" and we both started to run. After a few seconds, he stopped dead in his tracks and said "Mom, why are we racing?"

It was like the whole planet stopped whirling in space at that moment. I bent down to his eye level and responded "Good question, we're not going to race anymore." Without another word, we casually continued at our normal pace and arrived a half hour late for my meeting, which was irrelevant, as the other person had also been running late. She had not even arrived yet!

The experience had a profound effect on me. What came to light was that I had been sporting a pattern of rushing, of racing the clock and packing too many commitments into a small space of time. It clearly wasn't serving me well.

How often did this happen, before it occurred to me? I'd hate to count, but it definitely occurred to me that day.

As May is the month we celebrate Moms, this is a call-out to all Moms living in the fast lane. Slow down and take time to savour each moment. Be present with your children. Bend down to their eye level and give them your full attention. The whole planet will stop whirling in space. You won't miss anything. Trust me, I know from experience.

Your child's summer reading plan

It's never too early to think about what your child might read during the summer break. Reading over the summer not only improves children's literacy and language skills but also prevents what is known as the 'summer slide'—a regression in reading ability that can occur when children have an extended break from school.

How to help your child:

- Children need access to books and other print materials to help them become consistent readers. Make books and magazines available throughout your home (or in the car on road trips) and utilize your public library!
- Even reading just six books over the summer holidays can help your child maintain or improve their reading level.
- Children need books that are "just right"—not too easy and not too hard. Let your child choose what they want to read. As they fall in love with books, then you can help them discover more books!

Ways to make reading fun this summer:

- Get involved with your child's reading. Consider a family book club or read your child's book along with them and have conversations about the characters and plot. Read aloud a book above their reading level too—to build vocabulary and critical thinking.
- If you are taking a vacation or visiting family, involve your child in your on-line research and vacation planning; give them an attractive journal so they can write or draw about each day's fun and experiences.
- Does your child have a hobby, sport or interest they will be involved in during the summer? If so, build reading opportunities around this as they research to start a collection, read to build skills or navigate instructions.

The CBC Calgary Reads Big Book Sale runs from May 13 to 15, 2016. This is Calgary Reads' signature fundraising event. With children's books starting at just $1, the Book Sale is a great time to stock up on summer reading for the entire family, keep books in circulation locally and to support our work to help children read with confidence and joy! Muskrats Hardy Little Creatures

The muskrat (Ondatra zibethicus) is a fairly large rodent which has adapted to life in and around water. Their name comes from their two musk (anal) scent glands, the odour used in communication, especially during breeding season. Muskrats are found in North American wetlands and waterways and are considered to be an important creature in their freshwater environments.

These animals have a round, portly body covered with rich waterproof fur made up of a short dense silky under coat and a longer, coarse glossy guard coat. Their fur covers small ears and provides buoyancy in the water. Fur colour ranges from a dark brown head to a light grey belly. Their feet are mostly hairless; the hind feet acting like paddles during swimming and described as semi-webbed, with the four longest toes of each foot having a fringe of specialized hairs along each side, giving the foot a paddle like effect in use. The front feet are used like hands to build lodges, hold food and dig burrows and channels. There are five toes on all feet but the inner toes of front feet are small so rarely show in tracks. Full grown large adults can weigh from 1 – 2 kgs (2 – 5 lbs) and are up to 60 cm (24 in) long (including the tail). Their tail is slender, flattened vertically (to act as a rudder when swimming) and covered with scaly skin to protect it from damaging easily. The muskrat has special teeth that protrude ahead of the cheeks and lips, which can close behind them, permitting the animal to chew on stems and roots under water “with its mouth closed.” Its four front teeth are chisel like (two upper, two lower incisors), each up to 2 cm long, used for cutting stems and roots of plants.

Muskrats typically live in freshwater marshes, marshy areas of lakes, slow-moving streams, dugouts, ponds, and watery areas controlled by beaver dams. The water must be deep enough to not freeze to the bottom during winter, but shallow enough to allow for the growth of aquatic vegetation. Areas with good food sources such as bulrushes, cattails, pondweeds, or sedges are preferred.

Muskrat homes are compact mounds of partially dried and decayed plant material scattered among cattails, reeds or bulrushes, looking much like dead heaps of plants. If these materials are not available, muskrats dig burrows in firm banks of mossy soil or clay. They still need quick access to deep water for escape from predators and food access in the winter. Their construction of open-water canals through reeds, and floating houses of aquatic vegetation, creates habitats for many species of waterfowl and aquatic plants which could not survive among dense areas of cattail and sedges.

After freeze up muskrats chew through the ice, and push up plant matter to cover the hole with a dome to make a miniature lodge, which is used as a feeding station and resting place when searching for food underwater. They can remain underwater up to 15 minutes by reducing their heart rate and relaxing their muscles when submerged, thus reducing oxygen use by their body.

What's unusual about the muskrat?

- They are more widely dispersed across North American (north to south, east to west) than any other mammal.
- They were introduced to Europe in 1905 and are now common there too.
- If normal plant food is not available, and animal food is abundant, they are known to become carnivorous (eating fish, frogs, clams)!
- Numbers decrease dramatically every 7 to 10 years. This is believed to be the result of cyclical health declines, deaths and reproductive failure.
- Muskrats appear to thrive even when harvested heavily for fur, impacted by agricultural draining of wetlands and increases in industrial activity! They can even adapt to brackish (salty) water. Hardy little creatures aren't they?

If you find an injured or orphaned muskrat, or other wild animal or bird, please contact the Calgary Wildlife Rehabilitation Society for further instructions.

FENG SHUI

Barbara Shorrock

Feng Shui is on my mind again. Perhaps it is because of the “clutter” thing. Maybe because winter causes us to look more inside our homes than outside. Whatever the reason, this is a good time of year to review some Feng Shui principles. There are, of course, far too many to cover in a short article, but let’s focus on just a couple.

We’ll get the “clutter” thing out of the way first, excuse the play on words. Many of us love to decorate our homes, both inside and out. We are well past the Christmas season, with all its colour and beauty and significant things. By spring, this season is safely back in its boxes in the basement. Spring is upon us and time to be ruthless with the other “stuff”. If you don’t love it, need it, use it, or wear it, get rid of it. Give it to charity, sell it, pass it on to someone who will love it, or throw it out. The principle is simple; the action not so easy. So take one room at a time and remember that Feng Shui says that everything has chi or energy. Too many things create chaos in the energy field, and our life can reflect this chaos. Here is a good place to start - hang a wind chime near your front door and remove absolutely all clutter from the entry to your home (inside and out).

Living things have their own chi, and healthy house plants are carriers of vital energy and add life to our homes. They also provide a benevolent cleaning of the air by absorbing carbon dioxide and giving off oxygen. Plants with a soft graceful appearance are preferred to sharp spiky ones. If you are fond of cactus and their cousins, group them together with other friendlier varieties, and away from the people places in the house. Fresh flowers also add colour and sensuality to a room. They elevate the mood and perfume the air. Dried flowers are an alternative that some people like, but their life isn’t as long as you might think. In fact, it is believed they lose their vitality after a mere three or four months, and many Feng Shui practitioners advise against them. Dead flowers can actually deplete the energy in a space, rather than enhance it.

Pets are natural batteries of chi, and they bring the loving spirit out in just about anyone. It is well known that visiting pets enhance the well-being of residents of long term care and retirement homes, and we intuitively understand that a clean and healthy pet contributes to the energy of a home.

Flowers Story

A client bought a new home and her real estate agent sent flowers to mark the occasion. The flowers arrived at her home and the card said “Rest in Peace”. The owner was dismayed and called the florist to complain. After he learned of the obvious mistake, the florist said, “Madam, I am really sorry for the mistake but rather than getting upset you should imagine this: somewhere there is a funeral taking place today, and they have flowers with a note saying “Congratulations on your new home”.

Walking the Walk

I am a big fan of local. Eating local, shopping local, playing local.

Luckily for me, some of my favourite things are right in my neighbourhood.

So I walk. Walking is another thing I'm a big fan of.

Admittedly not an early adopter, I am also a recent convert to movement tracking technology. This means I can count the number of steps I take in a day. This is a really good indication of how much you move and once you keep track, you may be shocked at how little you walk in a day.

The usual recommendation is 10,000 steps a day which is more than most of us do. Once you take the time to count your steps, the question is; is it necessary to move that much?

Many people think so and I personally think it is a good goal, although one that you may need to work up to slowly. I don't view walking as 'exercise'. As movement specialist Katy Bowman says, "Walking is a superfood. It's the defining movement of a human." Walking has the power to soothe the mind and clear the head. Plus, as we age, mobility itself becomes more important. 10,000 steps seems like a lot, but you can be sure it will pay off in the long run.

I live in the Haysboro area I have taken to walking further and further in my daily routine. It is not inner city where everything is around the corner, but that works in favour of my step count. Where I used to drive, now I try to walk. Groceries, clothing, banking - it's all within reach. It has improved my wellbeing and it makes me so happy to support my neighbours and my local economy.

Buying Canadian makes good sense now and it might even lead to better health!

Kathy Dodd teaches yoga locally in Haysboro and leads yoga retreats in the Canadian Rockies and elsewhere.

Getting a tax refund? What now?

Suzanne Smith-Demers – Consultant

If you are claiming a tax refund this year, your next decision is what you should do with it. Here are six ways to make it benefit your financial future:

1. Immediately use your refund to make your 2016 Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP) contribution and you'll get the benefit of nearly an extra year of potential long-term tax-deferred growth, plus a tax deduction against your 2016 income.
2. Contribute to investments held in a Tax-Free Savings Account (TFSA). You will not be taxed on the income generated by these investments and you can make tax-free withdrawals for any purpose at any time.
3. Invest it. If your RRSP and TFSA are topped up, consider adding your refund to your non-registered investments. A tax-efficient strategy is to hold stocks and equity based mutual funds outside of an RRSP or TFSA because these types of investments are taxed using a more favourable capital gain income inclusion rate plus dividends from many Canadian corporations are eligible for the dividend tax credit.
4. Set up a Registered Education Savings Plan (RESP) to fund your children's future education costs. Contributions to investments within an RESP can grow tax-deferred and they may qualify for Canadian Education Savings Grants (CESG) of up to 20% of your contributions.
5. Pay down costly, high-interest credit debt and then pay down non-deductible debt such as your mortgage – a single prepayment could potentially save hundreds, even thousands of dollars in interest payments.
6. If your refund is large, consider parking that cash in a short-term investment that you can access without penalty. That way, you'll have a ready source of money for a rainy day.

Tax refunds are nice...make sure they are used to enhance your long term financial growth.

Snacks for Healthy Eyes

Canadian Association of Optometrists

Eat your leafy greens – Fresh spinach and kale are loaded with two antioxidants called lutein and zeaxanthin. These antioxidants help protect against the damaging effects of UV rays – pack an extra-large salad on those sunny days!

Fruits and veggies – Fill your lunch bag with colourful Vitamin C rich foods, such as grapefruit, strawberries, bell peppers and broccoli. Vitamin C is another vitamin that acts as an antioxidant by helping to absorb some of harmful rays generated by the sun.

Hummus – Enjoy some hummus with your veggies! Chickpeas, as well as other legumes, contain Zinc which helps your liver release and drive Vitamin A to the retina to produce melanin – melanin helps protect your eyes from ultraviolet light.

Fish – Most know that Omega 3 fats have many disease fighting powers, but did you know that they can also help protect against age-related macular degeneration and dry eye? Cook up your favourite salmon salad recipe, or order some sushi to-go.

Think Orange – Carrots, yams and sweet potato are packed with beta-carotene, an antioxidant that can help reduce the risk of age-related macular degeneration and cataracts.

Use leftover turkey – Planning a picnic? Pack your sandwiches full of this zinc and niacin filled protein. In addition to helping fill your zinc quota for the day, turkey contains b-vitamin niacin, which can help protect against cataracts.

City of Calgary Posts Surplus in 2015

Council was recently informed of a surplus from the 2015 operating budget.

The total surplus is $86M. Of this, $54M in savings was found through corporate initiatives and $32M was found through savings identified at the business unit level.

A number of key factors contributed to this surplus:

- The City decided to not fill a number of job vacancies;
- Low fuel prices made refuelling City vehicles less costly;
- Increased revenues from various fees and fines;

In June Council will decide what happens with the $54M in savings found through corporate initiatives. The options are:

- One-time rebate to tax payers: Many Calgarians are hurting right now. Calgary is feeling the brunt of rising unemployment rates, and some folks are having difficulty making ends meet. In 2016 Calgarians are scheduled to see a 3.5% increase to their property taxes. Offering a one-time rebate to tax payers would nearly eliminate this increase for the following year. Each property tax bill would see a reprieve of roughly $100 in 2017.
- Shovel-ready infrastructure projects: There are a number of infrastructure projects that are ready to begin construction, but do not currently have funding. $54M in funding could certainly help kick some of these projects off. This could translate into the creation of many construction jobs in 2016 for a market that badly needs more employment opportunities.

• City of Calgary “rainy-day” fund: This fund is where the funds are currently sitting. The City has a fund called “the financial stability reserve (FSR). Currently this fund sits at $374M. The City may draw on this fund during times of economic hardship to continue delivering the services Calgarians depend on.

A few thoughts on these options:

Tax Rebate

- Tough economic situation for many Calgarians
- Especially difficult for folks on EI or fixed incomes
- Relief would be a one-time rebate, but my hope would be that efficiencies will also be found in future years
- Hopefully by 2018 the local economy begins to show sounds of improvement

Infrastructure

- Good time to build infrastructure: availability of construction labour, lower costs, low interest rates
- Spending on projects could provide savings in the long run
- $54M could fund several projects that could begin construction in 2016

FSR

- This is The City’s “rainy-day fund”
- I would argue that it is currently raining and adding to this fund would not be the best use of tax dollars at this time

Let’s Hear From Calgarians

These funds belong to tax payers. While your elected official can share a number of ideas of what could be done, your voices must be at the table for this important decision.

I look forward to Council’s debate on what to do with the surplus.

I turn the question over to Calgarians: What would you like The City to do?
