EMS: Yielding to Emergency Vehicles

Time is the enemy in any emergency. For everyone's safety it is important for motorists to understand how to correctly yield right of way to emergency vehicles with lights and siren activated. You can help EMS, police, and fire get to the scene quickly and safely by following these rules of the road.

When an emergency vehicle approaches with lights and siren activated:

- If you're in the middle of an intersection when an emergency vehicle approaches with lights and siren activated, safely clear the intersection.
- On a one or two lane road, motorists should move to the right side of the road, slow down, and then stop. Remember to signal.
- On a road with three or more lanes, motorists should move to the nearest side of the road and stop. If driving in the centre lane, move to the right side of the road and stop. Remember to signal.
- Come to a complete stop and wait for the emergency vehicle to pass. Shoulder check for more emergency vehicles (there is often more than one!) before re-entering traffic flow. Remember to signal.
- Emergency vehicles might use any available road space to maneuver. This could include the shoulders or left hand turning lanes in order to pass other traffic.

When operating a vehicle:

- Drive attentively and defensively at all times. Be cognizant to sirens and be prepared to yield the right of way.
- It is Alberta law for motorists to slow down to at least 60 km/hour (unless a lower speed is posted) when driving past a stopped emergency vehicle. This includes EMS, police, fire, and tow trucks with their lights activated.
- Do not break the rules of the road in order to give right of way to an emergency vehicle. This could include proceeding through a red light or making an illegal turn. Actions such as these jeopardize all motorists in the area.
- Drivers must place their full attention on the roadway and toward the safe operation of their vehicle at all times. The fine for distracted driving in Alberta is $287.00.
- Always leave plenty of space between your vehicle and an emergency vehicle should it be required to stop suddenly.

How To Get Mom To Agree To A Pet Lizard!

I always wanted a pet reptile as a child, but like the myriad of other exotic pets I campaigned for, I was never successful in acquiring a snake or lizard. Now as a veterinarian and Mom of two boys I get to vicariously have all kinds of wonderful pets. "The boys wanted it"; this is the story my husband gets and I'm sticking to it. Fortunately with a little research and the help of a fellow lizard lover we became the proud owners of a Leopard Gecko called "Gecky".

Gecky, the Leopard Gecko, is a perfect pet in my eyes. He eats mealworms and crickets that are dipped in a calcium powder. He has a little container of a vitamin-mineral mixture he snacks on and a small water bowl. Room light is sufficient with a small heated pad stuck to the tank bottom providing additional heat he can move away or towards as he needs. Leopard Geckos can't even get out of the tank if the lid is left off by small children. Gecky did have a heat lamp (unnecessary) but that was eliminated when my six-year old tried to burn the house down. This sweet little creature will happily sit on your shirt through an evening of television. A dampened tissue is placed in the corner of the tank Gecky chose to use as his bathroom so cage cleaning is a breeze. This is a fabulous low-maintenance pet for young children with minimal supervision during handling periods. It is really gross when the tail falls off and twitches around for a while but they grow back.

Why did I say fortunately we picked a Gecko earlier? A neighbor asked us to babysit their Bearded Dragon, Steve. I have treated these wonderful attractive lizards but never kept one. Theory is easier than practice!

Steve arrived in his massive aquarium equipped with under tank heater, heat lamp, and two lights on a twelve hour cycle providing full spectrum lighting. There are multiple electronic thermometers to ensure the proper temperature gradients between 85 to 100 degrees F. Not the most attractive setup. Bearded Dragons are omnivores. So in the morning I cut Steve's veggies and fruit into pieces "smaller than the distance between his eyes". Then there was his daily quota of mealworms and crickets. Did I mention the cricket tank with over a hundred large live SINGING crickets?

Steve poops. He poops once a day and it needs to be removed immediately. I have treated thousands of animals of many, many species and I have worked in a pathology laboratory with animals in various stages of decomposition. I have to say the stench of Bearded Dragon poops elevate their owners to martyrs. Even after disposal it lingers in your nostrils and sinuses for hours. So Steve, I did like you, especially when you charged around your cage with your tail arched over your back gobbling up crickets. I liked to cuddle you Steve, but I was glad to see you go home.

If you are considering getting an exotic pet don't limit your research to learning about the care and needs of these creatures from books. Talk to people who actually own the exotic pet you're considering. Try to get a look at the set-up and even babysit as we did. Join TARAS, the Alberta Reptile and Amphibian Society. We won't be getting a Bearded Dragon but I hope the boys consider a cockatiel one day, I have always wanted one...

3 Savings Tips You Can Follow Even During the Holidays

Canadians used to save 20 per cent of their disposable income, but not anymore. Many working Canadians are barely making ends meet, according to a recent survey by the Canadian Payroll Association. It showed that 48 per cent of those surveyed are living paycheque to paycheque.

Saving for your retirement is important. So is planning for unexpected expenses that may happen in the shorter term, such as car repairs or vet bills. Everyone should have a rainy day fund because life brings many surprises. For some, that may mean job loss and illness unfortunately.

Putting money aside can make the difference between feeling stressed and being in control of your money. Here are three easy savings tips you can practice even during this busy and expensive time of year.

1. Start now. Some banks offer low-cost or no-cost accounts to young people, seniors, and low income Canadians.
2. Automate it. Transfer money to a savings account automatically every paycheque and watch your savings grow.
3. Make a budget and update it regularly. "Think about your short-term, medium-term, and long-term savings goals. A good way to start is to use the Financial Consumer Agency's budget tool," advises Jane Rooney, Canada's financial literacy leader. Do you need to buy a new washing machine within six months? Should you start saving for a child's education? What if you want to take a vacation next year?

We've heard many questions and comments on different developments happening within our established communities and thought we'd share some information on The City's Planning System. In an effort to help make The City of Calgary's planning and development process both more accessible and clearer to citizens, The City has created a new online mapping tool: the Planning and Development Map (PD Map). You can find it online by entering 'PD Map' into the search bar at www.calgary.ca.

With the PD Map, you can track, contact and provide comments on Land Use redesignation proposals and large-scale development permits. Anyone can follow the progress of the file from submission through to decision by City Council. PD Maps is currently in its first phase; additional features will be added, such as the ability to comment on smaller Development Permits which are discretionary or are requesting relaxations. Here are PD Maps current features:

- Multiple Search Options
 - Find out what is happening in your community, or in the city. Search by address, community, ward or file number. You can also scroll around the map, apply the Google Maps layer, or roll over a file to highlight the area proposed for development.
- Social Media Sharing
 - Share file information on your social media channels to increase community engagement on a file.

- File Status Tracker
 - Follow the status of the application from initial to final submission by City Council. Learn about the process and at what times comments can be submitted.
- Direct Comments and Feedback
 - Your comments on a file go directly to the file manager or City Clerk's, depending on what stage the application is at.
- Accessible Online and by Mobile
- Plain Language Descriptions

PD Maps is also tied to another innovative Planning System project, the Notice Posting Pilot. You can find it online by entering 'Notice Posting Pilot' into the search bar at www.calgary.ca. The City has redesigned Notice Postings (signs) so they are larger, more visually appealing, have easily understandable project descriptions, and direct citizens to the PD Map.

These complimentary tools are both intended to increase public participation in the application process. Please contact my office for help with this new tool, or to learn about other tools are at your disposal.

Lastly, remember to subscribe to your Ward 11 update at www.ward11calgary.ca to receive timely updates on projects in your community, and city.

CALGARY WILDLIFE The Red Crossbill

By J.G. Turner

The Red Crossbill is a stocky finch with a heavy head and a short, notched tail. Males are reddish-scarlet or reddish-yellow except for their dark wings and tail while females are olive-grey to greenish yellow with plain dark wings. This songbird is common in the mountain and foothills regions of Alberta year round and it is considered a global species. The Red Crossbill's range is hard to define and its population is hard to monitor because their movements are irregular and based on food availability.

Fun Facts:

- The tips of its large bill are crossed; an adaptation for removing seeds from tight closed cones.
- The Red Crossbill's biting muscles are stronger than the muscles to open the bill so it places the tips of its slightly open bill under a cone scale and then bites down.
- You can spot this songbird by their undulating (wave-like) flight, which is even noticeable when they are flying at great heights
- Red Crossbills are considered irregular breeders because they can breed whenever and wherever they can find a large crop of cones, even during the winter
- Because of this irregular breeding, the timeframes for the Red Crossbill's lifecycle varies more than most North American songbirds. For example, juveniles hatched during the summer molt only once (between late summer and late autumn) whereas juveniles hatched from late winter to early spring molt twice (about three and a half months after hatching and again during the main summer molt period).
- Because of their dependence on food supply, Red Crossbills may occupy an area in huge numbers and then disappear for long periods of time (this behaviour can sometimes be called 'irruptive')
- These birds can often be heard but rarely do they make themselves visible

- Red Crossbills will come to feeders to eat niger and small seeds but the best way to tempt this elusive bird is to allow them to take sunflower seeds directly from the sunflower heads.

If you find an injured or orphaned wild bird or animal in distress, please contact the Calgary Wildlife Rehabilitation Society hotline at 403-239-2488 for tips, instructions and advice, or visit our website at www.calgarywildlife.org for more information.

Dear Constituents:

As we begin the fall legislature, I want to look back and highlight many satisfying engagement opportunities I had in Calgary Glenmore throughout the summer. First of all, I want to thank everyone who participated in my Telephone Town Hall on September 21, 2016. We had over 1500 call-ins with numerous participants contributing excellent questions. I hope you felt as engaged as I during this new forum for constituency outreach. My goal is to offer diverse ways of staying in touch that work best so we keep working together and strengthening our communities.

It has been an exciting time. I attended the AGMs of SWCRC as well as many of our community associations along with other important events and board meetings in Calgary-Glenmore. I cherished moments at the 50th anniversary of our Calgary Rowing Club, Filipino Fiesta, Calgary Pride parade, Walk of Hope for Ovarian Cancer, Field of Fame by Alberta Champions and Alberta's Gift to the Nation: the Story of the Colonist car #1205 at Heritage Park, Women of Inspiration Award Ceremony, Making Treaty 7, An Engagement with Seniors at Centennial Calgary Branch 285 Royal Canadian Legion and several citizenship ceremonies. Based on the conversations I had, I would like to provide more feedback to recently asked questions. I hope you find the following helpful. For further inquiries please do not hesitate to contact our office.

Student Aid: Tuition, apprenticeship and material fees, and mandatory non-instructional fees for domestic students remain frozen throughout the 2016/2017 academic year. The government invested a two percent increase to post-secondary institution budgets for 2016. For example, Alberta's government doubled the value of grants targeted to low-income student loan borrowers, eliminating the use of spousal income as an eligibility criteria, expanding eligibility for student loans to apprentices, and increasing living allowances and loan limits. When needed, there are programs in place to help students set up manageable repayment plans that are in sync with their income and family size.

Curriculum Development: Our government's new approach to developing curriculum will span six years and work will be done simultaneously on six subject areas. This will build better connections across subjects and infuse First Nations, Metis and Inuit, as well as Franco-phone content into all areas of the curriculum. It is anticipated that the development of new curriculum will be completed for Kindergarten to Grade 4 in late 2018, Grades 5 to 8 in late 2019, and high school curriculum will be finished in phases throughout 2020 to 2022. Albertans will have the opportunity to provide feedback on the development of new curriculum before 2017. Specific attention will be given to our Indigenous partners, as we invest funding over six years to ensure they are properly consulted.

Save the date: Season's Greetings Office Open House on Friday, December 9th, 2016 from 4-6PM!

We always welcome your ideas/suggestion for more engagement opportunities with your MLA and therefore, please share your thoughts with us.
